MERGER ACT'S TERMS GIVEN WOMEN SCORE THE CONVICT LEASE SYSTEM

PRISON OFFICIALS ARE CRITICIZED TOO

Report On Conditions
Made Today By The Women's League

LEASE ABOLITION BY SOLONS ASKED

Organization Planned
To Work For Prison
Reform In State

(By Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, July 14.—Warden, deputies, doctors in charge of Alabama convicts under the leasing convicts now "in most cases are low grade political hangers on who have no conception of and no sympathy with what the real end of any system of punishment should be," says a report on conditions at camps by a committee named by the Jefferson County League of Women Voters to investigate the system in vogue.

The chairman of the committee is Pattie R. Jacobs, second vice president of the national organization of women voters.

"Our investigation has convinced us," the report continues, "that while the lease system is an inseparable barrier to all improvement in prison conditions and must first be abolished, there can be no real and permanent improvement so long as the present political system of appointing prison officials remains. In very few instances are the wardens, deputies and doctors fit or capable men."

The report said there were two instances of former saloon keepers holding state jobs.

The report concludes "that it is immoral for the state to relinquish any part of responsibility for its wards as is now the case. That it is fundamentally wrong because it treats convicts primarily as revenue producers; that it is wrong in practice because there is conflict of interests between the state and private concerns, resulting in abuses, over-work, inhuman punishment, forcing of sick men to work and brutalizing of those who it is to the real interest of the state to salvage."

The committee asked for immediate abolition of the system and that the present anti-leasing state-wide campaign committee transform itself into a permanent prison commission.

SPLENDID MEETING HELD BY KIWANIS

Notwithstanding that ordinarily during the hot season the attendance at clubs are generally at a low ebb, Kiwanis met at the Lyons Hotel Thursday evening with practically a full membership present. While the meeting was one of interest and full of pep and one of the most enjoyable the club has held, with song and story, some time was given to discussion of matters of moment and seriousness, meaning much to progress. Several visitors were guests of the occasion. T. G. Polhill who is superintendent of education of his district in his home state took occasion in a bright, witty address which was full of interest to commend the Twin Cities for the erection of two new splendid school buildings and to commend Henry Ford, making a most gracious address. E. D. Witherspoon, also a guest took occasion to express his appreciation.

Big Chief Baird appointed W. J. Garnett, Ben Johnson and Dr. Hugh McRee on entertainment committee for the next six weeks, a committee which will do the work well and to an advantage.

Early in August a proposed meeting is to be held of joint bodies of Board of Education, Morgan Kiwanis, County Commissioners and others looking to the securing of a home demonstration agent for Morgan County. It is expected that at this meeting men prominent in Alabama will be in attendance. For this meeting Dr. Hugh McRee, M. S. Bingham, W. W. Cunningham, J. D. Wallace and Webb Speake were appointed by Kiwanis to represent the club.

Paul Morrison, John Harlow and W. W. Rahm were requested to take up the matter of summer outing by the Morgan Kiwanis, when its members wives and children will be made to have the time of their lives.

Harvey Hughes, manager of the Hotel Lyons, with his usual generosity passed a fine box of smokes and with every puff, Kiwanis said, hurrah for Harvey.

The lunch served by Jack Collas, proprietor of the Lyons cafe, was excellent in every detail, and his reputation established as being one of the most capable caterers these cities have ever had.

He declined to reveal the machinery already set in motion to abolish the 12 hour day, nor would he estimate the number of workers to be effected with in the next six weeks.

Electric Cookery For The Housewife

The Alabama Power Co. is doing great work in advertising what electricity means to the house wife in her home. As there is so much work she will be able to do with it, and the time and energy she will save. The Power Co., will have open house today from 4:30 to 9 p. m. at their demonstration rooms at 608 Second avenue, for the benefit of the ladies that were not able to come in the afternoons of their demonstration for the past two days.

FAST TIME MADE BY MOTOR PARTY

Bruce Westmoreland and S. H. Malone unite in the opinion that outside of Morgan county, toward Tusculum and Russellville, and Memphis, the roads get better and better until the city of Memphis is reached.

The two men mentioned drove in an automobile from here to the Tennessee city in 14 1/2 hours; 9 1/2 hours to Tupelo, Miss., and 5 hours to Memphis.

The Bankhead Highway was struck by the travelers at Tremon, Miss., when all was smooth as glass to Memphis.

PASSENGER TELLS OF TRAIN WRECK

Miss Clara Duncan Has Severe Injury To Her Right Ear

WAS TO VISIT IN MATLOCK HOME

Baby Hurlled Into Iron
Basket And Escapes
Wreck Unhurt

Miss Clara Duncan, prominent school teacher of Knoxville and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Duncan, 133 Ailor Ave. Knoxville, who was seriously injured in the "Memphis Special" wreck Friday soon after 1 o'clock a. m. left here for Knoxville this morning on the same train she was to have reached here on Friday morning.

Miss Duncan was coming here to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Matlock when the engine which was pulling her train left the track near Scottsboro when a railroad iron broke under it.

Before leaving the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matlock, Miss Duncan gave a vivid description of the wreck of the "Memphis Special."

She said that few were awake in the pullman she was riding in from Knoxville about 1 o'clock Friday morning. She was awake at that time, but had dozed by the time the shock of the wreck came near 1:20 a. m.

Miss Duncan said that one large family of nine, was greatly perturbed by the crash. The mother was seriously injured, as were two of her little children, a boy and a girl. The father rushed around frantically toward the last of his search for his missing children. He had found all but the baby girl, when he entered the day coach where they had been riding and in the dark began to feel about him, all at once his hand touched that of his little child who had been thrown, when the coach overturned, into one of the steel baskets, such as are above the seats of all passengers.

Carr who was killed, was only 17 years old, that he was thrown through the window of a day coach and caught under the falling coach. The young man, although badly hurt, was conscious to the last and told fellow passengers that he knew the end was coming. He told where his home was, at Durham, N. C., and described members of his family.

In some instances broken glass penetrated the bodies of passengers, some were bruised against the iron coaches and all the passengers were shaken up and badly frightened. Only one person lived through the wreck without fright and he was a small boy, who was asleep during the wreck and when he was removed from his coach and remained asleep for quite a while.

Miss Duncan's worst injury was to her right ear. It had to have 19 stitches taken in it when she was taken to the City Hospital at Huntsville for treatment, where most of the 15 or 20 of the injured were taken soon after the wreck occurred.

Mr. Matlock went to Huntsville to assist Miss Duncan and met her just as she was being taken off the relief train from Scottsboro.

Mr. Matlock had previously met the 3 A. M. Southern train from Knoxville at the union depot here, not knowing until Miss Duncan called his house up from Scottsboro that the big wreck had occurred.

The Knoxville girl reached the Twin Cities late yesterday, and would have stayed for a visit here, but for the injuries she received.

In speaking of Miss Duncan's account of the wreck, J. P. Matlock said this morning that the young lady had looked at her watch soon after 1 o'clock Friday night in her Pullman and had then dozed off to sleep. The crash awakened her.

Pharmacist Shoots His Wife And Self

(By Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 14.—C. C. Nichols, 47, pharmacist, today shot and probably fatally wounded his estranged wife, Mrs. Lois Nichols, 23, and then fired a bullet through his own heart.

The shooting occurred in the lobby of a downtown office building.

Nichols, it was said, was waiting for his wife when she appeared for work in a building next door to where the shooting occurred. Persons inside the lobby who witnessed the shooting, saw Nichols draw his pistol, fire five times, the first bullet striking Mrs. Nichols in the breast. Three other shots missed their mark. Then Nichols fired one shot through his heart, dying before an ambulance arrived.

Mrs. Nichols had recently sued for divorce. When papers in the case were served on Nichols July 5, he attempted to end his life by swallowing poison, according to police.

FORMER GOVERNOR QUIZZED IN WALL STREET CRASH

John Burke, three times Governor of North Dakota and for years Treasurer of the United States, during which service he handled $227,000,000 of Uncle Sam's money without loss of a penny, has offered to appear before a New York grand jury and testify, under waiver of immunity in the investigation of the $2,000,000 failure of Kards & Burke, Wall street brokers, in which he was a partner.

He lays the alleged bucketing of orders to his partner, declaring he knew little of the business, into which he asserts he was drawn merely for the use of his name. He told the District Attorney his entire personal fortune, including his life insurance, had been lost in the crash.

SENATOR REBUKED BY CIRCUIT JUDGE

(By Associated Press.)

BIG RAPIDS, Mich., July 14.—A United States senator was rebuked by circuit court judge and told he would be removed from the courtroom if he did not conduct himself properly, during the hearing here yesterday of the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Mabel Ferris against Phelps Ferris.

Senator Woodridge N. Ferris had been in interested attendant at the hearing in which his son and daughter-in-law are principals. Mrs. Ferris was testifying, occasionally Senator Ferris smiling during her testimony.

Judge M. L. Dunham interrupted the hearing. "Senator," he said, "you will have to conduct yourself in a different manner than you have. It is very unpleasant for Mrs. Ferris to sit on the witness stand and have you look at your lawyer and smile at each question and answer. That must be stopped."

When the judge threatened to have him removed from the courtroom, Senator Ferris apologized and the incident was closed.

CONFERENCE HELD ON PLAN SATURDAY

Patterson Has Arrived
From Montgomery
Meet Of Solons

ANNOUNCE BILL IN ITS ENTIRETY

Fair Measure Sought
To Protect Every
Section Of City

Complete text of merger bill will be found on page 5.

The draft of the bill by which it is proposed to merge the cities of Albany and Decatur by legislative action was made public late Saturday and is carried in The Daily today in full, in accordance with the law which provides for publication of all local bills for 30 days in advance of introduction before the legislature.

Representative John Patterson, who is expected to introduce the consolidation plan in the house, arrived here last night from Montgomery and early this morning went into conference with local citizens in regard to the matter.

Publication of plans for legislative action to unite Albany and Decatur has aroused wide-spread interest not only in the Twin Cities themselves but in the state as well.

While a question of such magnitude hardly would be likely to have opinion unanimously behind it or against it, still public opinion here today seemed to reflect the view that if the bill is carefully framed, protecting the interests of all sections of the new city, then it will have the support of a large majority of people here. This was the end sought by those who are attempting to draft the provisions of the act. "We want to be absolutely fair to every citizen, every section and every interest," declared one of those interested in the movement. "We want to draft a bill which, so far as possible, will meet every demand and will satisfy every shade of opinion."

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

HAVE ALL OUR FINE PLANS BEEN MADE FOR THE SAKE OF NOISE.

Oliver Wendell Holmes one of the really great Americans of the past, has written of a time when all the people of the country decided to raise all at once a great shout that would be heard on Mars. When the time came to shout, every single person listened for all the rest except a deaf man on a Pacific ocean island.

Of course what the deaf man shouted was not heard far. He had the right idea however. He was determined to do his part of what had been agreed upon as the right thing to do.

There are enterprises all around us that have been agreed upon for decades, as worthy of support, and like the foolish inhabitants in the story, who propose to shout to Mars, all have solemnly agreed to cooperate in dozens and dozens of good causes. There have been enough good resolutions passed, organizations formed, and public and private agreements made in the Twin Cities as to what ought to be done. The times are getting ripe when some of the things all say they are in favor of should really be done.

A Train Of Thoughts For the Sabbath and Other Days

By J. E. Blair

Success in matters of right and wrong is gained by those who take a fighting chance. The famous wrestle of St. Jacob with the angel is a case in point. We have often been told that opportunity knocks at each door, once at least; the fact is opportunity does not make its presence known. Opportunity must be sought, worked for and prayed for. The man who waits for some church or individual to mark out his course, will die and leave his mission unfulfilled.

Opportunity does pass every day, but it does not knock. Those who would seize opportunity must seize it, that's all.

The Greek statue, as every one knows, made opportunity as a winged, fast moving creature that stopped nowhere, but it did pause occasionally.

Opportunity had another distinction; it was bald as to the back of its head. The explanation of significance of this, being, "Opportunity has no hair on the back of its head, for those who would have me, must seize me as I approach."

Once opportunity has passed by, it cannot be recalled. There is no more sad or fateful sentiment Statin gthe same sentiment in other words, once opportunity has definitely closed the door, the door cannot be opened. Men's courts often rehear cases, but once opportunity is through with a matter it is done. Those who have refused to take opportunity on her own terms are through, that is final.

It was the feeling that he had lost opportunity forever that caused the poet to say, "Of all sad words of tongue or pen the saddest, are these 'it might have been.'"

Often times when men go along a beaten path after thousands have passed, one man who is apparently bringing up the rear, sees the gold of opportunity on the hard beaten way picks it up and he caused the lives of many thousands to be enriched.

Only those see opportunity are capable of making a great choice. It is said that all the men who get really large salaries are men who can make what shrewd business men call "executive choices." How many shrink from making decisions that must be followed by hard work and new effort. The strong men act and let blame or praise come afterwards. Such take up their positions along the firing line of truth and shoot straight regardless of what shots come from the opposite direction.

The howl and the hue and cry of opposition hurts, but they have no compelling overmastering influence over the true seeker for spiritual opportunity. The seekers for God's opportunities take their stand, say their say and do their duty as God gives them grace to see it, and then await the verdict of God Himself.

One thing is sure for those who "hunger and thirst after righteousness" "They shall be filled." And such will never be placed among those damned who would not decide, who blew both hot and cold or halted "between two opinions." "I will spew thee out of by mouth" the Bible said of a certain early church, "because thou art neither hot nor cold."

There is no way, always, to know when to speak he timely word, nor to tell just when to put ones hat in the spiritual ring, so to speak; but all can take their stand on the side of right, all can refuse as did persistent, gallant old Jacob to give ore the battle, or to turn the angles of God loose until they have left their blessing.

None but worms of the dust have undertaken to bore a hole in this government from within.

Sticking pins in the other fellow is not an enjoyable past time to the other fellow.

A bald headed man don't like to throw his hat into the ring nor to sit well forward in a crowd in which men's hats are removed.

The last man in a race is a lost man to fame.

Too many attempts at fun like too many shakes of the salt shake leave a bad taste.

It will save your furniture considerably. These squares can be neatly hemmed and pinned on the furniture, and are easily removed for washing. They are not unsightly and are nice to use in the absence of slip covers.

Persistency Wins Success. Little drops of water eventually wear away large stones! It isn't the water, but its keeping everlastingly at the job that finally produces results. Just so man's persistent effort continually exerted ultimately brings him success.

Morality and Religion. Morality without religion is only a kind of dead reckoning—an endeavor to find our place on a cloudy sea by measuring the distance we have run, but without any observation of the heavenly bodies.—Longfellow.

FIRPO MAY MEET CHAMP. PIRATES TAKE A FLOP

Exactly two minutes and some seconds after the alarm was sounded for the eighth round one Jess Willard ceased to be the clams garters. Well, South and Central Americans ought to be pretty tough battlers, they have been at it since Noah was a kindergarten protege.

By virtue of this fact we will introduce to you a man who claims he has the right conquest to attack the foundation of the world championship of the right husky division. Yes the angel, Louis Firpo (now Signor Feerpo), wants a crack at the Mahana mauler namely William Harrison Dempsey.

Willard merely proved in his sensational dive to the rosin that science and history were right. He disputed that fact by jumping into ring togs for a fast comeback. His comeback was fast, short and nappy so to speak.

It has always been that the test of physical prowess finds youth in the forefront and all the heart and fight in the battle can't prevent youth from claiming it's glory.

Just when fandom rises up and awaits all out of breath the Pittsburgh Pirates take a summer flop. They seemed to have contracted Giantitis in every way but a winning way. The Reds have passed the Pirates and are occupying the second rung of the ladder. Luque, the Cuban, keeps in the limelight by annexing another fracas to his big list of victories.

One of the big features of the major leagues is the scrap among the first sackers. Charlie Grimm, Jim Bottomly, Stuffy McInnis and Long George Kelly for fielding and batting honors. Long George leads the way as a clouter but Charlie Grimm laughs in his sleeve when he lumps his own batting average. Stuffy and Jim specialize in the defensive phase and it will be hard to find any out in front of them.

Walter Johnson, the greatest pitcher in baseball is taking the bumps hard and often these days. The veteran pitches good ball too but the club behind him is weak in hitting and wobbles on the defense. He complains that he has lost the greatest majority of his games by a one run margin and he don't think that the failure to win should be laid up against him. Kinder think Walter is right.

Won't be so long now till bat welders and leather punchers give way to goal pushers. It may be owing to the local lack of sports that we are inclined to lean toward football as the peer of all sports, but when 60,000 or 70,000 turn out to see two combinations of brain and steel battle each other for a solid hour we have to admit that baseball is losing some of its glory to the eleven-man teams.

Horned Snakes Made While You Wait.
Why, certainly there are horned snakes. In certain sections of the country they are manufactured while you wait. All that is needed is a sharp knife, a snake and the spur of a rooster. The manufacturer splits the skin on top of the skull, inserts the flange of the spur between the skin and waits until the skin heals, and there is a genuine horned snake ready for exhibition.

Vernal Dreams.
"Farming is a great life," remarks an exchange. "It is a positive joy to sit and look at the water, the clear moon streaming over the hills, the trees bursting into bud, the wild flowers peeping through the green grass." Ay, truly farming would be a great life if that were farming.—Boston Transcript.

Rose Has No Other Name.

Is it not strange that the emblem flower of England should have a Latin name? For there is no other name for a rose than the Latin word rosa, which the Romans brought us. What did the countryfolk of Kent or Sussex call the dog-rose before the Romans came? "Eglantine," another old name for it, is French, derived from a Latin word which takes you back eventually to acus, a needle. Was there never another name to set beside such English names as cowslip, buttercup, daisy?

Smallest Letter.
What surely must be the smallest letter to cross the Atlantic arrived in London recently. It was a Christmas greeting cut with a diamond on a glass slide, the writing occupying the 1-43,000th part of a square inch. The greeting contained 50 words, and in addition a beautifully drawn picture of the sea and an island with trees, with the sun shining above it, the whole being surrounded in an ornamental border. Each word is quite distinct under an objective glass.
